

Opening Books • Opening Minds

October 5, 2006

Mehr Mansuri
Children's Theater Company
53 East 11th Street,
New York, NY 10001

Dear Mehr,

Working with your students has been a wonderful experience for us all. Their attitudes (positive) and enthusiasm towards the work has changed how I approach my own. The mundane tasks of the daily grind seem to lighten as the weekend nears. Not because I will be away from the office for two days (I take work home with me more often than not), but because I will get a chance to be part of something larger, part of your amazing organization, that feeds "truly starving artists".. Something both selfless & beautiful and for that I am in your debt and your amazing students.

I am praying for you for your upcoming meeting with the great Public Theater, and please remember that CTC is vital in it's own regard and offers something that is found nowhere else in New York (possibly anywhere else either).

Please congratulate all your artistic and spiritual education staff and please convey to them that they are one of the few theater groups in New York City with such a social and spiritual conscience.

All the best,

Sudie Anning
Producer

