

January 23-30, 2003 Issue No. 382

THEATER

KIDS

Children's Theatre Company: Specializes in edifying material

by Barbara Aria

Their musical-theater adaptations of Dr. Suess's The Sneetches and The Lorax emphasize the doc's message of tolerance. These plays join I Am Woman, which looks at women's evolution through pop music, and the cast's recitations of peacemaker quotes from the likes of Gandhi and Harriet Tubman. All Ages.

Baha'i Unity Center, 53 East 11th St. between University Pl & Broadway (212-633-6629)

Subway L, N, Q, R, W 4, 5, 6, to 14th St-Union Sq. Through February 8. Sat 6:30pm, Sun 4:30pm. $12; reservations required.

THE LORAX- Zachary Hendrixlyn, Stephanie Weeks, Vim Busay, Perry Addison and James Stefanik in a musical adaptation by Lory Lazarus, Directed by Mehr Mansuri